Kappa Phi Grows Through Faith and Service

You may have seen them selling duct tape roses in Ham-Will last year to raise money for a cause, or registering participants at the annual Crop Walk, or maybe even showing support for Colleges Against Cancer by dressing to the theme of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" for the 2009 Relay for Life. They are the members of Ohio Wesleyan's Kappa Phi!

Kappa Phi is a national women's Christian organization dedicated to service, worship, fellowship, and study. The Ohio Wesleyan chapter has existed since 1988 and currently has 26 members. Junior Sarah Murphey, Vice-President/Pledge Educator, says," My favorite part of Kappa Phi is that it is a place where I feel I can be the Christian that I'm called to be. I can express my love for others through service, I am supported and encouraged by my sisters, and I can explore my relationship with God alongside my peers." The group meets weekly and alternates between worship, socials, and service. They have dedicated time to serving the OWU and Delaware communities through a variety of projects. They have volunteered with Preservation Parks at the annual Trick-or-Treat Trail since 2006, during which the members dress up in kid-friendly Halloween costumes and pass out candy to visitors along the trail. "I think Trick-or-Treat Trail is a favorite for Kappa Phi. Everyone really enjoys dressing up in fun costumes and being a part of the nature trail," says Service Chair Erin Gursky. A new favorite is making warm sleeping bags from old blankets, which they started this year at their fall retreat. They donated the bags to Share, an organization that goes out into the streets to distribute the bags to those in need. During Good Samaritan Week in 2009, the group made pizzas and played games with the residents of the Willow Brook Christian Village, baked cookies for students at the OWU library, and raked leaves for Chaplain Powers. Throughout the year they volunteer to cook and serve dinner at the Andrews House for the Third Thursday free dinner program, and they raise money to donate to various charities at the end of the year.

The members of Kappa Phi strive to make a difference in their community while strengthening their faith and friendships. Senior Melody Maxwell has been a member for four years and is currently President. "The club is a great support for me and lots of fun to be involved with. When we meet there is so much laughter and yet we serve in many different ways and worship together in the process. I enjoy being able to attend a meeting one week to worship and the next week to do a service project." Kappa Phi maintains its commitment to service in a variety of ways, including doing service projects at weekly meetings and volunteering with Delaware organizations. Says Murphey, "Service is certainly a main pillar of Kappa Phi, and it shares that place with worship and spirituality. Service is always present in Kappa Phi. While we may not necessarily do a project at every meeting, that is always our aim. We believe that by nourishing our relationship with God, we may hone our abilities and willingness to serve those He loves."

OWU Serves During the Season of Fright!

Members of the OWU community participated in a variety of service projects throughout October and early November.

Chi Phi Haunted House a Success!

On October 29-31, Chi Phi hosted their 25th Annual Haunted House. The house took three weeks to set up and three days to tear down, but the event was a big success. In three days the brothers scared 635 students and community members and collected over $3000, which will be donated to Big Brothers Big Sisters.

Kappa Phi Haunts Trick-or-Treat Trail

Trick or Treat Trail took place at Gallant Wood Preserve on Sunday, October 26. The day was a great success with over 400 people in attendance. Eight Ohio Wesleyan Kappa Phi members dressed in kid-friendly costumes and handed out candy along the half mile treat trail. Junior Sarah Murphey said, "It's so fun to dress up and play into your character's role; the delighted expressions on the kids' faces when they come around the corner and discover you with a bucket of candy is the best!" This was the fourth year Kappa Phi has volunteered with this event.

Trick-or-Treat Street with the SLUs

Despite modifications to the rules due to H1N1 in Delaware, the annual Trick-or-Treat Street was still a go! Although the participating SLUs could not take trick-or-treaters through their houses, most still decorated the outsides of their houses. The Inter Faith House designed a Costa Rican Rain Forest theme, with hummingbird, monkey, and butterfly decorations on their porch and front yard. The members of the Peace and Justice House dressed up in costumes and handed out candy to trick-or-treaters. Emma Edwards, moderator of the Creative Arts House, created a backyard maze as her house project. The Modern Foreign Language House and Buildings and Grounds donated materials, and the Tree House and House of Thought helped build it. SLU members hid in the maze to scare participants and gave out candy at the end. Even OWU President Rock Jones participated in the Halloween fun of Trick-or-Treat Street!

Phi Psi Clears Out the Clutter

On November 1, the members of Phi Psi filled 28 trash bags while leaf raking at the Andrews House, a community center that provides hospitality, education, and advocacy for individuals and families in the community.

Justin Miller helps dig up a stump to clear the way for the supports for an access ramp.

The brothers of Phi Psi gather outside the Andrews House after an afternoon of leaf raking.

Sigma Chi "Digs" Service

On Saturday, November 14th, several brothers of Sigma Chi helped dig post holes for the construction of a wheel chair ramp at a Delaware resident's home.

Global Village Collection - 37 N. Sandusky Street www.globalvillagecollection.org

We are a non-profit, volunteer-staffed retail store filled to over-flowing with amazing and unique hand-crafted Fair Trade items. Our main goal is to promote Fair Trade practices and to improve the economic welfare of Third World artisans and farmers by marketing their handicrafts. Purchases made at our store help provide a sustainable and fair economic system for the artisans and farmers who would not otherwise have access to our marketplace. Fair trade is not about charity. It is a holistic approach to trade and development that aims to alter the ways in which commerce is conducted, so that trade can empower the poorest of the poor. Fair Trade Organizations seek to create sustainable and positive change in developing and developed countries.

As we are volunteer staffed, we are looking to fill some of our shifts. They are usually weekend shifts—Saturday shifts are 11-1 p.m., 1-4 p.m. and 4-6 p.m. Sunday shifts are 12-2 and 2-4 p.m. In the past, we have had organizations "adopt" a shift—like Sundays from 2-4—and commit to filling it with two of their members on a rotating basis.
