

Dr. Lindsey Godwin '00 Distinguished Achievement Citation

The Ohio Wesleyan University Alumni Association Board of Directors is honored to present Lindsey Godwin, Ph.D. '00 with the Distinguished Achievement Citation, the most prestigious award bestowed by the university to alumni, for her exemplary teaching, writing, and advising as a leading organization development scholar-practitioner in appreciative inquiry.

Lindsey graduated summa cum laude from OWU with a degree in psychology and sociology. At OWU, she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and received departmental honors in psychology and sociology. She is married to Matthew Moehle '00. Lindsey received a master of science degree in conflict analysis and resolution from The Jimmy & Rosalynn Carter School of Peace & Conflict Resolutions at George Mason University and a Ph.D. in organizational behavior from the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University.

Lindsey is the Robert P. Stiller Endowed Professor of Management and the Academic Director of the Cooperrider Center for Appreciative Inquiry, Stiller School of Business at Champlain College. She has held various academic positions at Champlain College, Morehead State University, and Case Western Reserve University. Her academic interests include appreciative inquiry, strength-based organization development and change, moral imagination in organizational decision-making, and business ethics and social responsibility.

Lindsey's list of publications and awards is astounding. She has published numerous award-winning articles in publications such as Oxford Handbook of Positive Organizational Scholarship, Journal of Business Ethics, Business & Society, and AI Practitioner Journal, to name a few. Lindsey is the author of two books, What Can You Spark with a Question Mark? and How Do You Love a Question? She has been a guest on numerous podcasts and webinars regarding sustainability and positive change. Lindsey is the host of a popular new podcast lifting up stories of positive impacts from organizations worldwide.

Lindsey has also served in a multitude of editorial, review, and research roles and has consulted with a lengthy list of clients, including, but not limited to, The United Nations, The Association for Association Executives, The International Federation of the Red Cross & Red Crescent, Ben & Jerry's, Houston Schools, and George Mason University. She is the co-founder and chief creativity officer of Ditch the Ditty and co-founder and connector-in-chief of Educating the New Humanity, LLC.